

Arenal Volcano Wedding

Do you want a wedding with a difference?

Have you considered to tie the knot on the edge of a volcano?

Arenal Volcano in Costa Rica is attracting more couples each year for weddings and honeymoons.

First, of course, is the location.

Imagine the background of erupting magma accompanied by latin music and dance.

Arenal is one of the main reasons why Costa Rica is becoming one of the most important international wedding destinations.

Where the actual ceremony takes place is open to negotiation - the venues available for civil weddings include the actual volcano edge, sunset-view hotel terraces, and scenic spots outdoors.

Imagine... This the most important day of your life becoming also the most memorable, as you join in matrimony under a star-filled night, relatives and friends gathered to the sounds of nature.
